A PROSPECTUS FOR PLACEMENT CELLS & CASE CLUBS

Crack placement interviews the structured way.

The independent platform where a whole batch practises real case & guesstimate interviews — graded on the same 100-point rubric a consulting panel uses, any hour, every time.

01 Every placement season runs on the same quiet unfairness.

Two equally hardworking students walk into the same shortlist — one had seniors who ran drills with them all term, the other had a WhatsApp group and hope.

MECE began the way most placement prep does — 2 a.m. peer mocks, seniors' PDFs passed down like heirlooms, and feedback that changed depending on who was across the table. So we replaced subjectivity with a rubric: practise any hour, get the same rigorous 100-point feedback every time — the same way for the topper and the first-generation MBA alike.

01

Inconsistent

Feedback changed with whoever happened to sit across the table — a senior one day, a stranger the next.

02

Expensive

Coaching and bootcamps priced out exactly the students who needed the structured reps the most.

03

Unmeasurable

No honest, repeatable way to see whether a whole month of prep had actually changed anything.

“

Judge us the way an interviewer judges you — on the work, not the signalling.

THE MECE TEAM

02 One rubric. A hundred points. Six dimensions a panel actually grades on.

The same criteria hit every submission, so a student tracks genuine improvement instead of a mood. Written strengths and fixes come back in about a minute.

Structure

25

MECE decomposition into a bespoke, logical framework; scope clarified before solving.

Quantitative

20

Accurate maths, Pareto-driven prioritisation, sanity-checked against plausibility.

Synthesis

20

Top-down recommendation, logic in descending importance, executive tone.

Business Judgment

15

Stress-tested across macro environment, industry dynamics and company constraints.

Creativity

10

Multiple distinct, testable hypotheses — structured exploration, not brainstorming.

Professional Tone

10

Confident without arrogance, honest about uncertainty, ethical, humble.

EVERY SUBMISSION RUNS THE SAME FIVE STEPS

03 A real interview on demand — and an honest score a minute later.

Not multiple choice. A back-and-forth interview: the student structures, the AI interviewer probes the weak link — exactly like a McKinsey or BCG round. Cases and guesstimates share one engine.

CASE · MARKET ENTRY
Should a South-Asian SaaS payroll firm enter Southeast Asia?
Recommend go / no-go with a clear structure, a sized opportunity, and the two risks that matter.

FRAMEWORK / CONTEXT
Market attractiveness · right-to-win · entry mode · unit economics.

INTERVIEWER
Take a minute. How will you decide whether this market is worth entering?

Three buckets — is it attractive, can we win, can we make money. I'd size SME payroll spend first.

Good. Give me a rough size — walk me through the maths.

$\sim 6\text{M SMEs} \times \sim 40\% \text{ digitised} \times ₹18\text{k/yr} \approx ₹43,000 \text{ Cr.}$ I'll pressure-test the digitisation rate next.
